I am excited to not only invite you to our 2018 AHVMA Annual Conference in Kissimmee (Orlando), Florida, but to specifically request your attendance! Each of us has literally dozens of opportunities to attend Continuing Education (CE) conferences every year. And, while we work to balance time away from work, financial considerations, and family obligations, how do we decide which conferences to attend?

A common reason, simply stated, is to fulfill the state’s CE requirements in a financially affordable way. But we all know there is more to it than that. The last line of the Veterinary Oath states: “I accept as a lifelong obligation the continual improvement of my professional knowledge and competence.” This is our opportunity to fulfill this oath, in two different ways.

First, “continual improvement” includes expanding the mind through exposure to new modalities or healing techniques that may not have been available during medical school training. At this conference, you will find lectures well beyond those that simply review current conventional and surgical practices.

Second, there is the concept of “competence”. To be the best version of ourselves, both personally and professionally, we have to be in good physical, mental, and emotional health. I believe competence is strongly influenced by state of mind. With all the pressures of our profession compounding our stress daily, we need to make the time and space to strengthen ourselves. Emotional learning/recharging is just as important as ‘book’ learning.

This is where the AHVMA Conference excels! We have a national reputation of bringing a different experience to our attendees, whether they’re from holistic, integrative or conventional practices. We offer a uniquely warm, friendly, accepting atmosphere while presenting cutting edge information and techniques.

Attendees, lecturers, and vendors provide a uniquely open, sharing and mentoring environment, making it an experience like no other. Attending my first AHVMA conference years ago literally changed my life.

We look forward to you joining us this fall in sunny Florida!

With warmest regards,
Debbie Decker, MSSA, DVM
President, AHVMA

Veterinary Technicians Welcome!
Dr. Palmquist graduated from CSU in 1983 where he was honored with Phi Zeta membership and was selected by faculty of the veterinary teaching hospital as the single recipient of the Upjohn Award for proficiency in small animal medicine. He is currently Chief of Integrative Veterinary Health Services at Centinela Animal Hospital in Inglewood, California where his office sees over 18,000 patient visits annually.

Dr. Palmquist’s interest in CAVM developed after he flew to New York to delicense a holistic veterinarian. Upon staying and observing he discovered CAVM to offer a whole new line of tools for difficult cases. Realizing that this field could not be adopted or spread more widely until further evidence was developed, he joined the AHVMA and began promoting the need for research in CAVM. He joined the board of directors, activated the research committee and was elected president. He was honored to receive the COE Peacemaker’s award for his efforts in uniting holistic and conventional medicine.

He assisted in the development of the AHVMF and became president and research committee chair. The AHVMF has raised over $1.8 million dollars and is now sponsoring over 15 major studies. He is a founding board of directors member of the WATCVM and an award winning international speaker and scientific writer on the subjects of homotoxicology, bioregulation, extracellular matrix and modified hospice. He is intensely interested in how CAVM modalities affect mitochondria and the microbiome.

Currently, he is on the board of directors of the ACVBM and is assisting in the application to develop formal board certification in veterinary herbology.

Dr. Palmquist has coauthored a textbook, Integrating Complementary Medicine Into Clinical Practice. He also has two other books, one an introduction to holistic thinking and another poetry book written to benefit fundraising for the AHVMF. He is on the teaching faculty of CIVT in Australia and provides fourth year veterinary students at Western University and UC Davis a 30 day elective rotation in integrative veterinary medicine. He also consults in Alternative Medicine for VIN.
Kris August, DVM, GDVWHM, CHPV

Dr. Kris August received her DVM from Colorado State University in 1991 and has a Graduate Diploma of Veterinary Western Herbal Medicine (GDVWHM) through the College of Integrative Veterinary Therapies (CIVT). She is a Certified Hospice and Palliative Care Veterinarian (CHPV) through the International Association of Animal Hospice and Palliative Care (IAAHPC) as well as a contributor to this certification program, and a co-author of the IAAHPC Animal Hospice and Palliative Care Guidelines (2013) and the textbook Hospice and Palliative Care for Companion Animals: Principles and Practice (2017). Dr. August owns an integrative veterinary house call practice in Ames, Iowa, in which her primary focus is geriatric and end of life care, and Western herbal medicine. Dr. August has the pleasure of teaching with her good friend Dr. Laurie Dohmen for Purple Moon Herbs and Studies’ Veterinary Herbal Apprenticeship and Retreat and other educational courses.

Mona Boudreaux, DVM, CVA, MMQ

Dr. Mona Boudreaux graduated from Louisiana State College of Veterinary Medicine in 1987. In 1994, Dr. Boudreaux became certified in acupuncture through IVAS and in 1997, she became certified in animal chiropractic therapy by the AVCA. After studying Chinese herbal medicine in Beijing in 1997 she developed one of the first veterinary Chinese herbal courses that is still in existence today. Dr. Boudreaux received her Master’s in Medical Qi Gong in 2005. She has co-authored two textbooks on Traditional Chinese Acupuncture and Traditional Chinese Herbal Medicine, is a contributing author in Pain Management in Veterinary Practice and has been cited in numerous alternative veterinary texts and magazines. Dr. Boudreaux served as the executive director of the AHVMA and on the IVAS House of Delegates. She is past president of both the AAVA (American Academy of Veterinary Acupuncture) and the AHVMA, served on the RAIVE, SAHVMA committees and the Council of Elders for the AHVMA.

Paula Jo (P.J.) Broadfoot, DVM

Dr. Broadfoot graduated from Kansas State University in 1981, with a BS in Animal Science and Industry, with an emphasis on Genetics and a DVM degree. She is a member of: the American Veterinary Medical Association, Arkansas Veterinary Medical Association, American Holistic Veterinary Medical Association and serves on the Scientific Advisory Board of VetriScience. On graduation, she worked on the set of “The Blue and the Gray”, then started a solo practice in Van Buren, AR 1982. She developed an interest in nutritional aspects of healing, which progressed into a holistically oriented veterinary practice, and then started utilizing some alternative medicines, such as homotoxicological remedies. She is currently partnering in teaching and surgery at Friendship Hospital for Animals in Washington, D.C., she relocated to south Florida. While working a conventional practice, Dr. Falck was presented with a cat Saki in end-stage kidney failure. As she was researching methods to help Saki recover, she was steered toward alternative methods of healing. Dr. Falck became a Certified Veterinary Acupuncturist in 2001 and Traditional Chinese Veterinary Herbalist in 2003. Now residing in Georgia, her mobile veterinary practice, Petwise emphasizes an integrative approach to animal wellness.

Shelley R. Epstein, VMD, CVH

Dr. Epstein is a 1985 graduate of the University of Pennsylvania School Of Veterinary Medicine. She became certified in veterinary homeopathy by the Academy of Veterinary Homeopathy in 1997, and has studied with Dr. Richard Pitcairn, Lou Klein, and Dr. Prafull Vijakar, among others. After going through the process of having a homeopathy case report published in JAAHA, Dr. Epstein became dedicated to furthering the publication of papers in homeopathy and all CAVM modalities. She serves on the editorial committee for the Journal of the American Holistic Veterinary Medical Association where she does reviews and copy edits. She has also reviewed for the journal Homeopathy of the British Faculty of Homeopathy. She has lectured on homeopathy extensively in the US and abroad, including in the United Kingdom, Vienna, and Japan. Dr. Epstein is past-president of the AVH and a current Board member.

Carol Falck, VMD

Dr. Falck began her professional career as a marine biologist. After a 2-year research project in the Red Sea, her interests evolved into a desire to work with animals in a clinical setting. She went on to receive her Veterinary Medical Doctor (V.M.D.) degree in 1997 from the University of Pennsylvania School of Veterinary Medicine. Following a one-year internship in medicine and surgery at Friendship Hospital for Animals in Washington, D.C., she relocated to south Florida. While working a conventional practice, Dr. Falck was presented with a cat Saki in end-stage kidney failure. As she was researching methods to help Saki recover, she was steered toward alternative methods of healing. Dr. Falck became a Certified Veterinary Acupuncturist in 2001 and Traditional Chinese Veterinary Herbalist in 2003. Now residing in Georgia, her mobile veterinary practice, Petwise emphasizes an integrative approach to animal wellness.

Barbara Fougere, BSc, BVMS (Hons), MODT, BHsc (CMD), MHSc (Herb Med)

Dr. Fougere is a graduate from Murdoch University Veterinary School, Western Australia. She practices exclusively in veterinary integrative medicine. She has served on the Australian Veterinary Association Policy Council, Therapeutic Advisory Committee, Feline Health Research Fund and has held positions as President of the Australian Veterinary Acupuncture, President of the Veterinary Botanical Medicine Association, and President for IVAS and is one of the first veterinarians to be certified in Veterinary Botanical Medicine worldwide. She is currently the chairperson for the American College of Veterinary Botanical Medicine. She holds a Master’s degree in herbal medicine and a bachelor’s degree in Complementary Medicine. She holds additional qualifications, including veterinary acupuncture, spinal integration, and homeopathy. Dr. Fougere has authored Healthy Dogs: A Manual of Natural Therapies (2003), The Pet Lovers Guide to Natural Healing for Cats and Dogs (2006) and coauthored two veterinary texts: Veterinary Herbal Medicine (2007) and Integrating Complementary Medicine into Veterinary Practice (2008).
LISA FOX WRIGHT, DVM, CVA, CVFT, GDCVHM

Dr. Lisa M. Fox Wright graduated from The Ohio State University College of Veterinary Medicine in 2009. She learned to love acupuncture during that time and her love of all things holistic grew from there. From high school on Dr. Lisa had some issues with depression much like a good percentage of the veterinary profession. This lead to some suicidal thoughts and because of this Dr. Lisa decided to put her acting and public speaking skills to use and spread the word about suicide awareness. In 2017 she opened a charter for the Suicide Awareness Voices of Education organization in Northern Ohio. Dr. Lisa is a mom, wife, and she has obtained many certifications in her short nine years from vet school. She believes that the more we openly speak about suicide awareness the more suicides we can prevent.

DANIEL M. HALDEN, DC, PAK, Certified Animal Chiropractor, CVMRT

Dr. Halden graduated with honors from Palmer College of Chiropractic in 1992. Since that time, he has built a successful practice for humans and for animals (at KVet Animal Care) in the Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania area. Dr. Halden is certified in Applied Kinesiology and is a member of the International College of Applied Kinesiology. Dr. Halden studied Animal Chiropractic at Options for Animals College of Animal Chiropractic and is certified by the International Veterinary Chiropractic Association. Dr. Halden is also certified in Veterinary Massage and Rehabilitation Therapy through the Healing Oasis Wellness Center. He also teaches advanced Chiropractic technique and Applied Kinesiology at the Healing Oasis. Without reservation, Dr. Halden finds practice and life to be joyful and rewarding every day. He happily embraces what every day brings, and shares that enthusiasm with his students, clients, patients and coworkers (and the occasional stranger!).

CHRISTOPHER HOBBS, Ph.D., L.Ac., A.H.G.

Dr. Christopher Hobbs is a fourth-generation, internationally renowned herbalist, licensed acupuncturist, herbal clinician, research scientist, consultant to the dietary supplement industry, expert witness, botanist, and mycologist with over 35 years of experience. The author or co-author of over 20 books, Christopher lectures on herbal medicine world-wide. He earned his Ph.D. at UC Berkeley, one of the world’s most prestigious universities, with research and publication in evolutionary biology, biogeography, phylogenetics, plant chemistry, and ethnobotany.

SUE HOWELL, DVM, CVA, CVFT

Dr. Howell has been a small animal veterinarian since graduation from Washington State University in 1997. She started integrating whole food therapies with conventional medicine over 10 years ago, a transition that revitalized her passion for veterinary medicine. Her interest in wholistic medicine has expanded to include earning certification in traditional Chinese veterinary medicine acupuncture and food therapy at the Chi Institute. She practices and is actively pursuing additional training in Nutrition Response Testing which has become one of the main focuses of her practice. In December of 1997 she was blessed to open Thrive Wholistic Veterinary Care, a practice dedicated to changing the lives, one pet at a time, through nutrition, whole food therapy and acupuncture.

JANICE HUNTINGFORD, DVM, DACVSMR, CCRT, CVA, CVTP, CVCH, CVFT

Dr. Janice Huntingford is a 1984 graduate of the Ontario Veterinary College, University of Guelph. She is certified in chiropractic, acupuncture, rehabilitation and pain management. She is the owner and medical director of the Essex Animal Hospital, Canine Rehab and Fitness in Essex, Ontario, Canada. In 2015, she became a Diplomate of the American College of Veterinary Sports Medicine and Rehabilitation, a consultant for the VIN Rehab/Sports Medicine/Chronic Pain board and a survivor of sled dog research at the Yukon Quest in minus 40 C. She has co-authored several textbook chapters on Rehabilitation and published a number of peer-reviewed manuscripts.

RONALD B. KOH, DVM, MS, CVA, CVCH, CVFT, CCRP, CVMMP

Dr. Ronald Koh received his veterinary degree in Taiwan and completed a specialty internship and Master’s program supervised by Dr. Xie at University of Florida in 2010. Currently, he is an assistant professor and service chief at the Integrative Medicine & Rehabilitation Department at LSU Veterinary School. He also has been a faculty member at the Chi Institute. His clinical interests include using TCVM, integrative medicine, and rehabilitation for pain management, neurological disorders, geriatric conditions, and hospice care. He lectures on acupuncture, traditional Chinese veterinary medicine, integrative medicine, and rehabilitation for veterinary schools, conferences, and general public events.

PATRICIA M. KORTEKAAS, PT, PC

Patrice was born in The Netherlands, and immigrated to the United States in 1986 as a Physical Education teacher and Physical Therapist. She has worked in several physical therapy clinics in the Eugene area before opening her own private practice. Patrice specializes in manual therapy and osteopathic techniques for humans and small animals. Over the last 25 years, she has studied with many different doctors of Osteopathy (DO), as well as other manual therapists. She has become a leader in developing integrated osteopathic techniques for small animals, including cranial, functional indirect, vascular and visceral osteopathic techniques. Using her strong biomechanical background, unique manual therapy skills, and Sherlock Holmes-like approach, she is able to successfully resolve many musculoskeletal dysfunctions in people and their animals unresponsive to other therapies.

CYNTHIA LANKENAU, DVM

Dr. Lankenau grew up in the Hudson Valley in NYS on a dairy farm. She graduated from Cornell University College of Veterinary Medicine in 1981. Initially out of school she practiced in a 99% dairy practice but, saddened by the decline of family farms, she joined the Peace Corps for a change in 84–5. Returning to the US to work in a mixed animal practice, she quickly grew frustrated with the limitations of conventional medicine. After being certified in acupuncture with IVAS in ’91, she soon established a 100% alternative modality practice with chiropractic, homeopathic, and herbal certification/training with various organizations.
MARJORIE M. LEWTER, DVM
Dr. Lewter has experienced a wide range of veterinary activities during her career from Volunteering in Africa to opening the first Holistic veterinary practice in her area. She has interest in organic farming and how holistic veterinary medicine can contribute to its rapid growth. She also provides botanical and energetic options for small animal patients to balance conventional care. Her real passion is mentoring students and planting seeds for success!

MARTHA LINDSAY, DVM, MS, CVH, CNE
After 20 years of conventional medicine and surgery in a small animal and small ruminant practice, Dr. Lindsay joined a strictly veterinary behavior practice for three years. She and her husband then opened Alternative Veterinary Services in North Andover, MA in 2001 to offer Homeopathy, Traditional Chinese Medicine, Chiropractic and Nutrition. She became certified from Ulan Nutrition Systems and the National Institute for Whole Health. Dr. Lindsay lectures to non-veterinary groups, veterinary student clubs, and veterinary hospitals introducing homeopathic treatment and Nutrition Response Testing, and has lectured at the AVH annual conference.

KÄREN MARSDEN, DVM, CVA
Dr. Kären Marsden practices Complementary and Integrative veterinary medicine in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada with her husband Steve Marsden in the clinic they co-founded together. A graduate of Tufts University School of Veterinary Medicine in 1998, she started out in emergency medicine; completed the IVAS Chinese herbal medicine course in 2001; and her IVAS Acupuncture course in Havana, Cuba in 2002. Kären is a resident veterinary for Global Television in Edmonton and enjoys sharing any stories that strengthen the Human-Animal bond. She was pivotal in helping to build the framework that passed the bill that banned Greyhound racing in New England and worked on the infrastructure of the UN Conference for Environment and Development in 1992. Kären is the proud mom of a teen, a tween, two cats and two blood deficient anxiety laden Weinmanarers.

STEVE MARSDEN, DVM, ND, MSOM, Grad Dip Vet Acup, Grad Dip VCHM, Dipl.AC, Dipl.CH, CVA, AHG
Dr. Steve Marsden received his doctorate in veterinary medicine at the University of Saskatchewan in 1988. At the National College of Naturopathic Medicine in Portland, Oregon, he obtained a doctorate in Naturopathic medicine, a Master’s of Science in Oriental Medicine, and his licensure in acupuncture and Diplomat status in Chinese herbology. He treats both pets and people in his Edmonton, Alberta practice. He has instructed veterinarians in Chinese Medicine at IVAS, Tufts and AVAC. He is a member of the American Herbalists Guild. He is the co-author of several texts, including the Manual of Natural Veterinary Medicine. He is perhaps one of the best known and highly qualified Veterinary Chinese Herbal Medicine masters worldwide. He was awarded Canadian Veterinarian of the Year in 2009 and Herbal Educator of the Year by AHVMA in 2010.

GUIDO MASÉ, RH(AHG), Clinical Herbalist
Guido Masé, RH (AHG), is a clinical herbalist, herbal educator, and garden steward specializing in holistic Western herbalism. He is a founder, faculty member and clinical supervisor at the Vermont Center for Integrative Herbalism, a 501(c) (3) non-profit herbal medicine clinic and school that provides services focused on whole plants and whole foods. He serves as chief herbalist for the Urban Moonshine, where he works on research, development and quality control for an all-organic whole-plant tincture line, offers education in herbal medicine, and works in clinical practice. He participates in herbal education at the University of Vermont, and is the author of The Wild Medicine Solution: Healing with Aromatic, Bitter and Tonic Plants (Healing Arts Press, 2013) and DIY Bitters (Fair Winds Press, 2015). Relying on clinical experience, storytelling, and scientific research, he believes that true strength flows from nature, and that herbal medicine is key to sustainable, successful living.

DEBORAH MARSHALL, DVM, CVA
Dr. Marshall graduated with a bachelor’s degree in music and Performance Arts from the University of Miami in 1973. She had her first professional contract by the time she was 19. Deborah received her Doctorate of degree from the University of Florida in 1986, acupuncture certification from IVAS in 1990, and chiropractic certification from Options for animals in 1999. Dr. Marshall Created and ran the Hurricane Andrew horse relief effort. She now specializes in Upper Body Lameness in the equine, treating the highest level of performance horses including all disciplines from Belmont winners to international dressage horses and jumpers.

LAURIE MCCAULEY, DVM, DACVRSM, CVA, CVC, CCRT
Dr. McCauley graduated in 1992 from Colorado State SVM. After six years in general practice, she became a pioneer in the field of Veterinary Rehabilitation, designing the first underwater treadmill for dogs. Dr. McCauley started the first Rehabilitation Clinic in 1998 and was on faculty at Canine Rehabilitation Institute for 14 years. She is certified in Acupuncture and Chiropractic therapy and in 2014 became Board Certified in Canine Sports Medicine and Rehabilitation. Dr. McCauley is an International lecturer and contributing author in many textbooks and journals. She was awarded the 2011 Iams AARV Award of Excellence in the Field of Rehabilitation and the 2015 AHVMA Holistic Practitioner of the Year Award.

Check out the full list of lectures on our Conference Schedule on pages 15–18.
DEBORAH MITCHELL, DVM, MS

Dr. Mitchell is a graduate of the University Of Illinois College Of Veterinary Medicine. She also holds a Master’s degree in Field Zoology from Southern Illinois University. Her interest in CAVM began when she completed an externship in Neurology and Cardiology at Animal Medical Center in New York, NY. There, she was introduced to veterinary acupuncture by then-Neurology Visiting Staff Doctor Allen Schoen. She is certified as a Veterinary Acupuncturist through the International Veterinary Acupuncture Society, and certified in Veterinary Chiropractic; Usui Reiki, Master Instructor; Traditional Chinese Medical Herbology; Applied Kinesiology; and Basic and Advanced Homotoxicology. She has lectured extensively on numerous integrative veterinary modalities. Dr. Mitchell also served on the Board of Directors of both AHVMA and AAVA, and currently serves on the AHVMA Conference Program Committee. Her hospital, Knollwood Hospital for Pets, has consistently achieved the American Animal Hospital Association’s highest ranking since it opened, and was the first integrative veterinary hospital in the United States to be so certified.

MICHELLE J. RIVERA, MT, VDT

Michelle Rivera is the co-owner and co-founder of The Healing Oasis Veterinary Hospital and The Healing Oasis Wellness Center (teaching institution). The Veterinary Hospital was opened in 1993 and the Healing Oasis Wellness Center (School and the only private institution recognized by a State Educational Board and Accredited under the US Dept. of Education) in 1998. Michelle is not only an active trained Chinese Herbologist, but a Feng Shui practitioner. She enjoys teaching TCCVM, Tongue Diagnosis, Chinese Herbology as well as Rehabilitation. Because of her passion for animal rights, in 2015 she started Namaste Equine Rescue Ltd., which is the only rescue (registered non-for profit) facility working solely with Law Enforcement. She is also currently serving on the IVC Journal Board and as an advisor to the Gateway Technical College, Veterinary Technology Program. She enjoys all of her rescue pets, including her husband.

NANCY SCANLAN, DVM, MS, CVA

Dr. Scanlan graduated from U.C., Davis in 1970. She started using nutraceuticals for herself and her patients during her senior year in veterinary school. She has been employed in a wide variety of veterinary practices, both conventional and integrative. She also spent 10 years educating veterinary technicians. She was certified in veterinary acupuncture in 1988, and incorporated a number of other modalities into a holistic veterinary practice that included acupuncture along with Chinese and Western herbs, nutraceuticals, trigger point therapy, and homotoxicology. She eventually retired from full-time practice and is currently executive director of the American Holistic Veterinary Medical Foundation, supporting research and education in integrative holistic veterinary medicine. In her spare time she is an advisor for the Alt Vet Med folder in VIN and works on the organizing committee for the ACVBM. She works in Mount Shasta, California, and lives outside the town in the woods, in a solar-powered house that is off the grid, with her husband, and a rescued Doberman.

PIEDRO LUIS RIVERA, DVM, FACFN, DACVSMR

Dr. Rivera graduated from Purdue University, School of Veterinary Medicine in 1986. He has been practicing integrative veterinary medicine and in particular Veterinary Spinal Manipulative Therapy and rehabilitation with emphasis in functional neurology for the last 22 years. Dr. Rivera is a proud Fellow of the American College of Functional Neurology and a Diplomate of the American College of Veterinary Sport Medicine and Rehabilitation. Dr. Rivera and Michelle Rivera are the owners and main program directors of the Healing Oasis Wellness Center, a nationally accredited and recognized school (under the US Dept of Education) providing state approved post-graduate certification programs (through the Educational Approval Board of Wisconsin) and approved by many national organizations for licensed professionals. The Healing Oasis has been providing post graduate state approved certification programs in VMRT (since 1998) and VSMT (since 1999) among providing many continuing education seminars and advanced programs with an emphasis in clinical applications in functional neurology to improve patient outcomes.

RIKKE SCHULTZ, DVM

Rikke Schultz became interested in holistic medicine while studying at the University of Copenhagen, where she received her doctorate in veterinary medicine in 1992. This made it possible to integrate holistic approaches to regular practice right from the beginning. For five years she had a mixed practice in Iceland followed by work in an equine clinic in Denmark for eight years. Since 2005 she has had her own mainly equine holistic practice. Rikke attends anatomical research, teaching and censorship at University of Copenhagen. Dr. Schultz lectures and teaches internationally.

TEJINDER SODHI, DVM, CVC

Dr. Tejinder Sodhi is a leading holistic Veterinarian practicing at his two clinic locations in Greater Seattle area for the past 30 years. Dr. Sodhi graduated in 1983 from College of Veterinary Science in Punjab, India. After coming to the USA, he attained ECFVG certification and trained in veterinary acupuncture (IVAS). He has veterinary chiropractic certification (AVCA) and is trained in canine physical therapy and rehabilitation (University of Tennessee). He is the founding president of the Holistic chapter of the State of Washington, USA. He has been a board member of Puget Sound VMA, Washington State VMA and has been president of SKCVMA twice. He has spoken on Ayurveda in many AHVMA conferences and world congress 2017 and has written articles for many magazines.

MICHÈLLE TILGHMAN, DVM, CCRP, CVA

In practice since 1982, Michelle Tilghman is a leading authority and much-sought practitioner of integrative veterinary medicine. She became a Certified Veterinary Acupuncturist through the International Veterinary Acupuncture Society in 1984 and went on to serve as Chair of International Education for IVAS from 1999 until 2012. In 2004, she received her certification as a Canine Rehabilitation Practitioner from the University of Tennessee. In 2016, she spoke at the World Association of Traditional Chinese Medicine conference in Beijing, China, where she merited the Excellent Speaker Award. She is a past president of AHVMA and a recipient of the 2017 Lifetime Achievement Award from the American Academy of Veterinary Medicine. She is the owner and chief practitioner of Loving Touch Animal Center in Stone Mountain, Georgia.

The AHVMA Office maintains an online referral directory for Member Veterinarians, which lists all contact information and modalities practiced. It is available to the public online at www.ahvma.org. If you are a Licensed Practicing Veterinarian who currently utilizes at least one holistic modality, are accepting new clients, and would like to be included in our referral directory, we request that you complete the form below. The accuracy of the information provided is your responsibility. If any of your information changes, you must submit a new form or update your profile online.

Dues must be current by April 1st each year to remain on the directory, though we allow a 30-day grace period before your listing is removed.

Please type or print CLEARLY. Fill in all information you wanted listed in the directory. Remember, this is referral information, so the contact information you give should be related to your business (in other words, don’t list your home address or phone number unless you want it in the directory). Check all of the “Practice Type” and “Modalities Used” categories that apply to you.

STUDENT AHVMA (SAHVMA)

If you have attended more than one AHVMA Conference, you have probably noticed a significant increase in student attendance over the past few years. This is AMAZING news and we couldn’t be more excited to welcome these future healers to AHVMA.

AHVMA and the AHVM Foundation work to bring students to the Annual Conference through scholarships (AHVMF), grants and individual donations (AHVMA). Each year, AHVMA funds the annual conference attendance of the Student AHVMA National Board officers and delegates. This is only been made possible through the generosity of our donors.

Thank you to all of the individuals, clinics, and exhibitors who have supported our students. With your generosity we hope to bring even more students to the 2018 AHVMA Annual Conference.

If you are a veterinary student (or faculty at an AVMA accredited veterinary college), and would like to know more about joining or starting a Student AHVMA Chapter, please contact the AHVMA Office at office@ahvma.org. We’d love to hear from you!
